over the last twenty years the rise of qur'anic studies has been one of the most remarkable developments within the wider framework of islamic scholarship this evolution can be viewed from three angles exponential growth in the accessibility of relevant primary the use of contemporary methods for developing new analytical agendas a renewed appreciation of diverse hermeneutical orientations a veritable gold rush of publications theses colloquia and study projects devoted to the qur'an in the past two decades illustrates these developments this scholarly community subsists primarily in european countries and the united states but its effects are not limited there the reception and dissemination of this work in muslim majority countries is constant and bodes as a promising opportunity to establish a real dialogue between scholars and lived community the present book contains expert contributions emerging from this nexus with scholars from north african middle eastern and western backgrounds who share a common ambition to advance academic study of the qur'an by promoting cooperation across global boundaries growing religious antagonisms are challenging the ultimate goal of living together in peaceful societies living together explores international law responses beginning with their historic roots before the perspective shifts to the role of religious institutions and religious law contributions of different human rights bodies are analyzed before further sections deal with the international protection of religion the relationship between religious beliefs and freedom of expression and the roles of other individual rights religion and international law originates from the long standing cooperation between the german and the french societies of international law thus bringing together the traditions of french laicism and a cooperative german approach experts from austria italy poland portugal and the uk complement the pan european perspective islam has always had ambivalent relations with judaism and christianity as also with jews and christians the awkwardness of their character has been accentuated by the creation and perpetuation on all sides of partial and ill intentioned images during the middle ages and by political developments in the modern period since the beginning of serious modern study of islam in the west these relations have found an important place in scholars interest partly because many of those in the west who have studied islam have been jews with a natural attraction to an interest in those topics which affected jews and other minorities in the islamic environment in this volume we have tried to assemble a collection of papers which reflect something of the diversity of the problems offered by this range of relations we have also attempted to reflect in the variety of the papers and the topics discussed in them the rich variety of approach adopted by scholars over the last century and a half of such study israel oriental studies has ceased publication with volume 20

the present volume is the work of 25 scholars who represent various specializations important to the study of the qur an including arabic language comparative semitic linguistics paleography epigraphy history rhetorical theory hermeneutics and biblical studies the starting point of this work was a series of five international conferences on the qur an at the university of notre dame over the academic year 2012 13 although the commentaries contributed during those conferences have been carefully edited to avoid repetition readers of the qur an seminar commentary will find that the 50 passages selected for inclusion in this work include many of the most important and influential elements of the qur an including q 1 al fatiha q 2 30 39 the angelic prostration before adam q 2 255 the throne verse q 3 7 the muhkamat and mutashabihat q 4 3 polygamy and monogamy q 5 112 15 the table al ma ida from heaven q 9 29 fighting the people of the book and the jizya q 12 the story of joseph q 24 45 the light verse q 33 40 the seal of the prophets q 53 the satanic verses q 96 including the passage often described as the first revelation q 97 the night of qadr q 105 the companions of the elephant q 112 on god and the denial of a divine son the collaborative nature of this work which involves a wide range of scholars discussing the same passages from different perspectives offers readers with an unprecedented diversity of insights on the qur anic text
